

Dear Congressman Ellison,

Traffickers, brothel owners and producers who exploit child slave labor are making enormous profits in countries with judicial systems too weak to enforce their own laws.

Some governments are standing up to these criminals, but they need help. Even poor countries can make great strides when they receive police and judicial training, funds for aftercare shelters, and diplomatic pressure and encouragement to put traffickers and slave owners out of business.

Please help the State Department's Office to Monitor and Combat Trafficking in Persons (G/TIP) provide assistance to help slavery-plagued countries rescue children from exploitation and put the criminals who prey on them in jail. The Child Protection Compact Act deserves your support.

Signed,
